ADVANCE YOUR CAREER FROM HERE

With a vibrant, supportive community and deep connections to the legal, business, and technology centers of the San Francisco Bay Area and beyond, there is no better place to study law than at the University of San Francisco.

USF's LLM programs will challenge, inspire, and prepare you to succeed through innovative coursework and teaching methods, clinical training, personalized career counseling, and externships at leading San Francisco law firms, businesses, startups, and nonprofits.

You'll work alongside our expert faculty of prolific scholars and dedicated teachers who are engaged with students inside and outside of the classroom. As a USF student, you can tap into our vast and supportive global alumni network of attorneys practicing in law, business, technology, and more to help you reach your career goals.

- Study in the heart of San Francisco, minutes from the Civic Center, where LLM students attend hearings at the California Supreme Court
- Get hands-on training through externships in Bay Area law firms and businesses and USF's many in-house law clinics
- Benefit from individual counseling with faculty and career planning services
- Network with USF alumni mentors who are attorneys practicing in a variety of legal fields, from technology to business and beyond
- Prepare to take the Bar Exam and practice in the U.S., or use your LLM to enhance your expertise and credentials for work in your home country
- Secure housing in the law school's new residence hall

INTERNATIONAL LLM PROGRAMS

LLM IN INTERNATIONAL TRANSACTIONS AND COMPARATIVE LAW

The LLM in International Transactions and Comparative Law is your gateway to a thriving career in American, international, and comparative law. The program equips students with a strong grounding in legal theory and practical skills to move their career forward in the United States and abroad. Students may focus on international business and commercial transactions law, international human rights law, or an area of American law as the subject of a comparative law study. Through a hands-on clinic, students may travel to New York or Geneva to participate in United Nations human rights meetings and conferences, bringing to life the theories learned in the classroom.

LLM IN INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY AND TECHNOLOGY LAW

This LLM program is designed for a diverse group of lawyers — from seasoned practitioners looking to stay abreast in a constantly changing field, to recent graduates wanting to get an edge in a market where specialization is increasingly important to employers. Our alumni practice all aspects of intellectual property law for law firms, governmental agencies, and corporations in the U.S. and abroad. Skills training and career development are key features of the program, and networking opportunities with alumni practitioners abound.

LAURA RIVERA MARINERO '09

Democratic Governance Coordinator, United Nations Development Program, El Salvador

"My USF LLM was the turning point in my path to an international law career. Going to Geneva with the International Human Rights Law Clinic was an opportunity to put into practice the theory I learned in the classroom. I also acquired negotiation skills that I use on a daily basis."

CYRIL MATSWETU '13

Licensing Counsel, Dolby Laboratories

"I was immediately welcomed into the supportive USF law school family. The IP courses I took laid a strong foundation on which I was able to build a deep knowledge of the IP field."
